Mennonite Yearbook for 1958

"Did you look in the Yearbook?" Whatever the information you may desire, this is the first question that should come to your mind. You'll probably find the answer in the following pages if it has to do with persons and activities of the Mennonite Church.

If you do not have time to leaf through the Yearbook and make mental notes of the arrangement and different kinds of information, a careful glance through the Contents on page 2 will prove quite helpful.

Information on Mennonite General Conference with its various committees begins the Yearbook after the articles. Following this come the general boards, the Commission, the foreign missions, and welfare institutions.

The Statistical Section presents current and comparative figures of memberships and enrollments. The Church Directory lists all conferences alphabetically. The Ministerial Directory lists names and addresses of the ministry of most Mennonite bodies throughout the world.

Revisions and Improvements

Hundreds of persons throughout the church have helped to provide the revised statistical information in this 1958 issue. Only as the officers of each congregation and each Sunday school, as well as any other organization, try to achieve accuracy, is the information in this book also accurate. We have reasons to believe that interest in accurate reporting is increasing year by year. As this interest increases and as rapidly as each congregation adopts a systematic way of keeping membership figures, so also will our total membership figures for conferences and the whole church become more accurate.

The 1958 Yearbook insofar as possible has attempted to bring up to date all committee memberships, conference representatives, congregation memberships, and names and addresses. The editors of the Yearbook have attempted to present the information as it was received. Where there were important questions, these were referred back to the organization for explanation.

This year for the first time you will find on page 48, Table VI, an attempt to present a list of all countries of the world with baptized memberships of all Mennonite bodies. Although considerable effort was made to gather these figures, obviously there likely are places where inaccuracies appear. At least we can perhaps say that this table represents Mennonites around the world.

The perlexing question of what is a mission and what is a congregation has been with us for a long time. The Church Directory this year has changed the classification to organized and unorganized congregations. Whether a congregation is organized or unorganized depends not upon the amount and source of financial support but whether it is recognized as an independent, separate organized congregation, having sufficient organization to administer its activities. Some of our congregations are organized, particularly in the cities, yet are considered by many as missions. Ideally every congregation should be a mission with a program of outreach.

Thank You

A word of especial thanks is due the many persons in church organizations and committees who have willingly and sacrificially given their time and effort in providing the material that is found in this 1958 issue. The editor wishes to share with all who have helped in providing information the many expressions of appreciation he has received from those who use the Yearbook.

The Yearbook is a picture of the church active in her service for Christ. Back of these names and figures are persons—persons who have dedicated themselves to the cause of Christ. In these years of increased activity on every hand, may we not neglect to pause in meditation and thanksgiving to God for his presence and blessing in every effort of His.

The Mennonite Church in 1958

By Paul Erb

Executive Secretary of Mennonite General Conference

The MENNONITE YEARBOOK is largely limited to information about the Mennonite Church, which is the largest (82,374 members) of a number of related groups in America which use the Mennonite name. This article tries to give an over-all picture of the Mennonite Church at the beginning of 1958.

The chart on p. 6 diagrams the organizational pattern of the church. A few congregations are independent, i.e., unattached to any conference. But most of the 990 organized and unorganized congregations belong to one of the twenty conferences which are members, or eligible to membership, in Mennonite General Conference. Member conferences are connected on the chart by a solid line to General Conferences. Conferences connected by a broken line have not yet affiliated with General Conference, but are considered a part of the denomination, and are counted in the statistics of the YEARBOOK. All but one of these conferences elect members on the General Council, which meets several times in each biennium to discuss issues and to take interim action. All of the twenty conferences elect representatives on the Publication Board, and most of them participate actively in the work of the Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities and the Mennonite Board of Education.

A great deal of the denominational program is carried on by these three boards. They are autonomous, i.e., not organizationally responsible to General Conference, as the broken lines indicate. They report their work to General Conference, however, and operate within its standards. Co-ordination of the church program is secured through the General Council, on which the boards have membership, and especially through the Council's Committee on Co-ordination of Church Program. So while the program is not centrally administered, it is co-ordinated.

To keep the chart simple, we have not diagrammed the organization of the boards, beyond showing the connection of a few subsidiaries. The chart does not show the Nominating Committee of General Conference, which is now a standing committee, nor the subsidiary organizations of Mennonite Mutual Aid.

Mennonite General Conference

The Mennonite General Conference maintains a headquarters office at Scottdale, Pa. It held its biennial meeting at Harrisonburg, Va., Aug. 25-27, 1957. Actions taken include the following: adopted a "Code of Ethics for the Minister"; encouraged a plan of co-ordinated, integrated giving; amended the constitution to provide for a standing nominating committee, and to define the duties of all committees; called for a study of Mennonite Central Committee functions and relations; asked for the preparation of a statement of doctrine; adopted a statement on the Theology of Christian Experience.

The General Council met three times in 1957—twice in Chicago and once at Harrisonburg. In 1958 it will meet once—at Laurelville Mennonite Camp in September.

General Conference operates on an annual budget of $45,000, given by the constituency on a basis of $1.00 per member plus 35¢ per Sunday-school enrollee.

The organizational personnel of General Conference may be seen on pp. 14-16.

Mennonite Mutual Aid cares for a number of economic needs within the brotherhood. Subsidiary organizations are the Mennonite Foundation, Mennonite Automobile Aid, Mennonite Aid, Inc., and Mennonite Church Buildings, Inc. Late in 1957 the General Council approved plans for moving into widows' and survivors' rehabilitation. This will be added in 1958 to other mutual aid services, such as loans, investments, financial counseling, refugee loans, guidance in colonization, community placement service, church building, and sharing of expenses occasioned through sickness and death.

Mennonite General Conference participates in the Schowalter Foundation and annually receives funds which thus far have been used for scholarships and support of retired missionaries.

The Ministerial Committee held a meeting with conference representatives to consider problems relating to ministerial calling and service, and conference responsibility and service in behalf of local church leadership. All thirteen conferences reporting to this meeting said they license some ministers previous to ordination, twelve are giving increasing responsibility to pastors, and ten are using lay conference delegates or giving study to the question. The committee drew up the Code of Ministerial Ethics adopted by General Conference.

The General Problems Committee held a study conference on marriage and divorce. During the year the committee will be working on a comprehensive statement for presentation to General Conference.

The Commission for Christian Education is working at its important task of promoting Christian education on the congregational level. The emphasis for 1957 was "Co-operation for Effective Service." The 1958 emphasis, "Following Christ in Our Work," is being developed in co-operation with the Committee on Economic and Social Relations. Articles in our periodicals, special youth and adult quarterlies, YPM topics in December, and a number of regional conferences will help to carry out this emphasis. During the year the Commission hopes to strengthen its promotion by the appointment of a full-time field secretary and a halftime youth worker. District representatives will meet with the Commission in October of this year.

Mennonite Youth Fellowship, which functions under the Commission, has completed its first decade of guidance to our youth program. For the first time MYF held its general meeting in connection with General Conference. This precedent will be followed, but there are plans also for a general MYF meeting in August, 1958.

The Music Committee is working on plans for a revision of the Church Hymnal. Our Hymns of Praise, a children's hymnal, will be published in the fall of 1958, if plans carry. A study conference on church music was held at Iowa City in March, 1957.

The Peace Problems Committee held a I-W Evaluating and Planning Conference at Elkhart in April, 1957. I-W services are co-ordinated by MRSC at Elkhart. Melvin Gingerich has been appointed to provide material for the "Peace and War" page in the Gospel Herald.

The Committee on Economic and Social Relations, together with the Mennonite Community Association, helped to sponsor the 1957 conference on Christian community relations. The 1958 meeting will be at Kalona, Iowa, in March. A number of Mennonite businesses participated in June, 1957, in a conference at Newton, Kans., on the application of Christian principles to management-labor relations.

The Objectives for the Biennium adopted by Mennonite General Conference are found on p. 4.

Mennonite Publication Board

The Mennonite Publication Board, one of the three autonomous church-wide boards of the Mennonite Church, held its annual meeting in 1957 at Scottdale. For the first time a net worth of over $1,000,000 was reported. Total sales in 1956 were $1,289,646, an increase of 9% over the previous year.

In 1957 the Souderton bookstore moved into a new shopping center. A new store was opened at Bloomington, Ill. The new Nursery Sunday-school course was published and went into use in October. Grades 3 and 4 of the summer Bible school course came out in revised form. Beams of Light, primary story paper, was renamed Story Friends. Urie Bender became editor of tracts and The Way.

New books published were Cherokee Run, Hidden Rainbow, Invitation to Faith, Recovery of the Anabaptist Vision, Manual for Junior Leaders, Youth Program Ideas—III, Mennonite Encyclopedia, Vol. III. Scottdale printed for Ivan Magal Pilgrim's Progress in Russian.

The increased interest in literature as a means in world evangelization is seen in the world-circling trip by Publishing Agent A. J. Metzler under the sponsorship of publishing, mission, and relief agencies. More effective organization will be set up in 1958 for making literature a major arm of missionary outreach.

A new Kindergarten II Sunday-school course will be ready in October of this year. The writing of the new graded Sunday-school course for primary, junior, and intermediate grades should be finished, ready for a beginning of publication in 1959. New material for the instruction of young converts will be published this year, also Torchbearers Guidebook for junior boys.

New books in 1958 will include God Uses Ink, by J. A. Hostetler; The Way of the Cross in Human Relations, by G. F. Hershberger; Group Dynamics in Evangelism, by Paul M. Miller; probably The Holy Spirit and the Holy Life, by Chester K. Lehman; and Breaking Bread Together, a woman's devotional book edited by Elaine S. Rich. Because of editorial difficulties in securing European materials, the fourth and final volume of the Mennonite Encyclopedia will not appear until the summer of 1959.

This year will see the beginning of the Focal Pamphlet Series, with the first titles being Integration—Who's Prejudiced, by C. Norman Kraus, and The Church and the Community, by J. Lawrence Burkholder.

This is Jubilee Year for the Mennonite Publication Board and Mennonite Publishing House. The annual meeting of the Board at Scottdale in March will review fifty years of denominational publishing. God Uses Ink will tell the complete story. The Gospel Herald will celebrate its fiftieth anniversary with a special issue. Our publishing work will be featured in many meetings throughout the church. The Publishing Agent's annual report, a pictorial review of House operations, will be made available for every home in the brotherhood.

Mennonite Board of Education

The Mennonite Board of Education operates and controls Goshen College, Goshen College Biblical Seminary, Hesston College, and the Mennonite School of Nursing at La Junta. Because of a lack of clinical material at La Junta, the School of Nursing will be closed with the graduation of this year's class.

High Park, a new residence hall for women, and the new arts building at Goshen were dedicated in connection with the annual meeting of the Board at Goshen in October. In 1958 construction is scheduled to begin on the church-chapel and the seminary building there.

The Biblical Seminary of the General Conference Mennonites is being constructed at Elkhart, Ind., and will move to the new campus this year. The Associated Seminaries, including the Goshen College Biblical Seminary, will conduct an Institute for Mennonite Studies at Elkhart.

A second function of the Board of Education is to furnish a liaisonship for the whole extensive educational program of the church—both that administered by the Board and that administered by conferences and other groups. This is carried out through the General Educational Council, which has its own Educational Agent, and through subsidiary councils for seminaries, colleges, secondary schools, elementary schools, and nursing education. Co-operative studies are carried on, and through offered guidance the total educational experience of the church is made available to all schools.

The Board in its annual meeting asked a committee to study its organization. The alignment of the General Educational Council and more effective local administration for our colleges are some of the questions to be studied. This study will be going forward in 1958.

The Ohio high school has been located at Kidron. Lancaster Mennonite School is building an auditorium. At Eastern Mennonite College the completed women's dormitory was dedicated and most of the construction done on a gymnasium and student center. The College observed its fortieth anniversary with a suitable program.

The Study Commission for Higher Education gave its final report to the Board. Current enrollments confirmed projected enrollments for the next 15 years. All the colleges of the church are planning for a doubled enrollment by 1970.

Chester K. Lehman delivered the 1957 Conrad Grebel lectures on The Holy Spirit and the Holy Life. J. D. Graber is writing the 1958 lectures on A Philosophy of Missions. They will not be ready before fall.

Personnel changes in our schools include the appointment at Goshen of Leland Bachman as Coordinator of Public Relations and of Ralph Gunden as Business Manager; at Western Mennonite School of Edwin Keener as Principal and of Bernard Showalter as Dean and Registrar.

Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities

The Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities held its annual meeting in June, 1957, at West Liberty, Ohio. The treasurer reported total disbursements of $1,268,880, higher than in any previous year. Total mission giving, through both the general and the district boards, was $2,311,177. The general Board is working this year within a total budget of $1,167,858. It employs a total personnel of about 685 in an extensive operation of home and foreign missions, broadcasting, relief and service, hospitals, child welfare, and homes for the aged.

The headquarters of the Board are at Elkhart, Ind. Organizationally the Mission Board administers its work through departments headed by secretaries. Three areas—Relief and Service, Mennonite Broadcasts, and Health and Welfare—are administered by administrative committees, each of which has an executive secretary.

Either directly or in co-operation with a district mission board work is carried on in 21 foreign areas through a total of 172 missionaries. New fields entered by missionaries in 1957 are Ghana, Nepal, and Algeria.

During the year a new hospital was dedicated in Puerto Rico, a voluntary service center at Glenwood Springs, Colo., House of Friendship (a Jewish center) in New York, and a new church in Japan. The Adriel School for the retarded was opened at West Liberty, Ohio, and a course for practical nurses was inaugurated at La Junta. The Board accepted responsibility for the Amazon Valley Mission, with the Amazon Valley Board continuing as an advisory and fund-raising body. The Denver VS unit was transferred from MCC to the Mennonite Relief and Service Committee.

The work of Mennonite Broadcasts, Inc., continues to grow. In 1951 there was one station and one language. At the beginning of 1958 there are 110 stations and 6 languages. The station count is English, 74; Spanish, 23; Navaho, 3; Japanese, 8; Italian, 2. A Russian broadcast is being developed, and a children's broadcast is in the planning stages. The Heart-to-Heart women's program has come under the full direction of Mennonite Broadcasts. During 1957 a European director was named and Italian broadcasts begun. New correspondence courses are being prepared.

The Calvary Hour, pioneer independent Mennonite broadcast, observed its 25th anniversary in 1957.

Several district mission boards conduct foreign missions, in addition to home missions and institutions. Franconia has a mission in Cuba, in cooperation with the Elkhart Board. Pacific Coast has workers in Mexico.

The Eastern Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities, serving the Lancaster Conference, is the chief missionary agent for one-fifth of our total membership, and supports missions in six foreign countries, including Viet-Nam, added this past year. The Conservative Mennonites co-operate with the Eastern Board in Luxembourg and conduct a work in Germany. Virginia co-operates with the Elkhart Board in conducting work in Sicily and Jamaica.

Inter-Mennonite Activities

The Mennonite Church carries on a number of activities in co-operation with other Mennonite groups. Chief means of this co-operation is the Mennonite Central Committee, with headquarters at Akron, Pa. The Beachy Amish in 1957 appointed a representative to MCC, bringing the co-operating groups to 13. MCC carries on an extensive program of relief, now operating in 20 foreign countries. Its Peace Section co-ordinates the peace work of the various groups, especially in government contacts. It participates in the National Service Board for Religious Objectors, which maintains an office in Washington. It helps in the colonization of refugees. In the United States it has led out in a mental health program. It carries on a program of voluntary service, both at home and abroad.

Total receipts of MCC in 1957 were 2,603,491. Of this amount $1,027,767 were composed of gifts-in-kind—donated food and clothing, including $289,250 worth of government surplus food. The 1958 budget is $594,552, not including material aid and institutions.

OBJECTIVES FOR THE BIENNIUM

1957-1959

Adopted by Mennonite General Conference

I. Working together to attain separation unto God.

1. Helping all applicants for membership to a definite experience with Christ and a victorious Christian experience, and challenging them to loyalty to Christ.
2. Combating in the church and in our homes every form of worldliness which threatens our life and testimony.
3. Improving the effectiveness of our teaching, preaching and counseling, so as to lead our people into a deeper fellowship with God and His saints.
4. Seeking meaningful applications to the doctrine of nonconformity as new situations face us.
5. Strengthening the Biblicism of the church with a continued acceptance of the Bible as the authoritative Word of God.

II. Going forth into the world as a sanctified people.

1. In an enlarged program of service.
   a. Challenging all our members to participation in voluntary service or emergency and disaster service.
   b. Relating the I-W program to our total youth program.
   c. Expanding service "in the name of Christ" to the underprivileged of the earth, and extending our peace testimony, even in other lands.
   d. Finding a formula for supplying the need of our brotherhood in the area of disability and survivors' rehabilitation.
   e. Continuing our witness in the field of race relations.
2. In a forward program of missions.
   a. Expressing through the Conrad Grebel Lectures of 1958 a philosophy of missions.
   b. Entering at least one new foreign mission field each year.
   c. Increasing the membership of the church by at least 5,000 members.
   d. Organizing at least 50 new churches by colonization, branch churches, I-W units, and in other ways.
   e. Developing a systematic plan for helping to finance churches.
   f. Striving to make each of our congregations a mission church, with every member a missionary, and giving a genuine welcome to people of varying background.
   g. Expanding our radio outreach, giving special attention to the problem of communication to non-Christians.
   h. Strengthening the pastoral leadership of our churches.
   i. Promoting Christian stewardship through teaching and improvement of giving methods.
   j. Securing the personnel we need by challenging young people to dedication, and supporting our colleges as they train the rising tide of students.
   k. Promoting Christian literature: getting the Gospel Herald into every home; getting our important Mennonite books, such as the Mennonite Encyclopedia, into the libraries of our workers; helping to provide the literature for a world learning to read.

III. Seeking greater unity in the brotherhood.

1. Giving a clear doctrinal witness in the Christendom of today.
2. Adding new conferences to General Conference as a symbol of our unity.
3. Working at the problems of relations between district conferences.
4. Sharing our testimony among other Mennonite groups.

Many delegates from our conferences and boards attended the Sixth Mennonite World Conference in Karlsruhe, Germany, in August, 1957. This conference has become an important means of inter-Mennonite communication. A statement of Guiding Policies adopted at Karlsruhe was approved by Mennonite General Conference.

The Mennonite Church is co-operating with the General Conference Mennonites in producing a graded Sunday-school curriculum, and steps were taken during the year for the use of these courses by the Canadian Mennonite Brethren Church. The General Conference, Mennonite Brethren, and Mennonite Churches are co-operating in producing the Mennonite Encyclopedia. We co-operate with other groups in the Conference of Historic Peace Churches in Ontario, the Association of Mennonite and Affiliated Colleges, the Mennonite Research Fellowship, the Association of Mennonite Hospitals and Homes, the Association of Mennonite Aid Societies, and Associated Mennonite Biblical Seminaries. Mennonite Biblical Seminary in Montevideo is inter-Mennonite, and our foreign missionaries, especially in India and Japan, have close inter-group relations. In North America an inter-Mennonite Ministerial Study Committee has been appointed.

An important area of co-operation is in evangelism. The Brunk evangelistic party spent the summer of 1957 among the Mennonites of Manitoba, who co-operated in supporting the meetings. This group will work in British Columbia in 1958. The Crusade for Christ (Myron Augsburger, evangelist) conducted a campaign in the Bluffton, Ohio, area in 1957, and this year Bro. Augsburger will preach in a union effort at Berne, Ind.

Directions

An important development in 1958 will be in church financing. The General Conference and all our boards and committees operate on a budget. There are increasing needs for money. Opportunities call in missions and relief. Our colleges face mounting enrollments and a need for great expansion of facilities and faculties. Many church buildings are being built or remodeled. Ministerial support is on the increase.

Giving on impulse or on special appeals is no longer adequate to meet these needs. There are not enough Sundays to provide offerings for all the causes. Budgeted expenditure calls for planned giving. The General Conference in 1957 encouraged planned and co-ordinated giving. In 1958 the General Council will appoint a part-time Secretary of Stewardship, who will give our congregations assistance in moving into church financing that will be more effective both in raising needed funds and in stimulating greater spirituality. Many congregations have already moved into planned giving, and there are many enthusiastic reports.

God is speaking through His Church, of which the Mennonite Church is a part. We look forward with hope to what He will yet be able to say through us. If this should be the year that we face Him in judgment, may we do so without fear and without shame.

Scottdale, Pa.

G. Parke Book (1879-1957)

By Ira D. Landis

G. Parke Book was born on Sept. 3, 1879, in the home of B. Frank and Elizabeth (Bachman) Book. His father was a teacher in the public schools and active in church work at Strasburg and Mt. Pleasant.

In the fall of 1897 he was baptized by Isaac Eby and became a member of the Strasburg Mennonite Church. From the beginning he became actively interested in church work.

On Nov. 21, 1901, he married Annie Margie Kreider (born Nov. 15, 1881), a daughter of George and Anna Mellinger Kreider. They chose farming as a vocation, beginning on the farm in 1909 where a son Harold Book now lives. In December, 1914, he suffered the loss of a hand in a fodder shredder. This handicap, however, did not dull his interest in farming.

The home was blessed with four children. In 1930 he and his companion retired in Soudersburg, Pa. He died April 15, 1957, at the age of 77 years, 7 months, 12 days.

He served as superintendent of the Paradise Sunday School from 1926 to 1935. He was ordained by lot to the ministry at Paradise Mennonite Church on Feb. 7, 1935, by Abram L. Martin. Among places where he served as evangelist were the following: Mt. Joy, Landis Valley, Weaverland, Mechanic Grove (twice), New Danville, Welsh Mountain, and Ephrata. He was a member of the Library Committee of the Conference for a number of years, serving as its chairman for a period of time. During the beginnings of the Lancaster Mennonite School he served as chairman of the Lancaster Mennonite School Board and continued as a member until his death.

On June 20, 1946, he was ordained bishop of the Pequea District. He also served as bishop of churches in the South from the fall of 1947 until January, 1950. After serving faithfully as bishop for a period of ten years, he saw Clair Eby ordained as his successor. After a period of six months' illness, he answered the heavenly summons.

Following are quotations from his sermons: "At baptism we need a threefold confession: Faith in Christ, sorrow for our past sins, leading to repentance and a forsaking of sin, and faithfulness desired to the end of life." "Take not only the Word of God, but God at His Word." "The Bible as a standard of faith and practice is a fair and perfect standard, that endures unchangeable and powerful ever." "Man needs a threefold vision: man's need, God's plan, and man's responsibility to God and man. Prov. 29:18."

Many were those who appreciated his lifetime of Christian service and witness. Moses Gehman says of him that he was "an earnest, devout Christian, with strong convictions, . . . scrupulously honest, a hard worker, cheerful and friendly to all" and that he was "well liked and highly esteemed by all who knew him both in the community and the church."

His sermons were Bible based and true to his faith and included comments as follows: "My Bible tells me . . . ." "I would that the Lord might somehow . . . ."

His efforts as conference bishop, Christian educator, and conference leader have been deeply appreciated by all who labored with him.

Samuel H. Rhodes (1880-1957)

By Harry A. Brunk

Samuel H. Rhodes represented one of the oldest families in the Shenandoah Valley of Virginia. We can well believe that he was a descendent of preacher John Rhodes, who with most of his family, were massacred by Indians in 1766. Preacher John Rhodes lived near Luray, Va., in what is now Page County, where the largest settlement of Mennonites was made in the 18th century. As the original settlement of Mennonites declined members of the Rhodes family moved to Rockingham County.

The old Rhodes homestead for the S. H. Rhodes family was the Lineweaver place one mile southeast of Weavers Church. Perhaps Peter Rhodes, the grandfather of Samuel H. Rhodes, was the first member of the family to live here. Of the Peter Rhodes family, Solomon married Susannah Heatwole. They began housekeeping at the home place where Samuel was born to them on March 24, 1880. Later they moved to a farm near New Erection which in time became the estate of the subject of this sketch.

Little is known about Samuel's early years. At the close of the summer session of the Sunday school in September, 1895, his teacher, J. D. Hartman, gave him a little book entitled, Royal Invitation or Daily Thoughts, as a reward "for good behavior, regular attendance and good lesson during the season." That same year he accepted the "Royal Invitation," and was received into the church.

Samuel H. Rhodes was ordained to the ministry on Jan. 3, 1902, at the age of 22. Soon after his ordination he, with Jacob A. Heatwole, who had been ordained at the same time, took a trip to Pennsylvania. They discovered or rediscovered that the Mennonites there used the Pennsylvania Dutch in their services. Even though preacher Rhodes had learned the Pennsylvania Dutch in youth he did not attempt to use it in preaching. Rhodes remembered that he became quite tired on this trip; he developed a cough which was later identified as whooping cough. Of course he did not know.

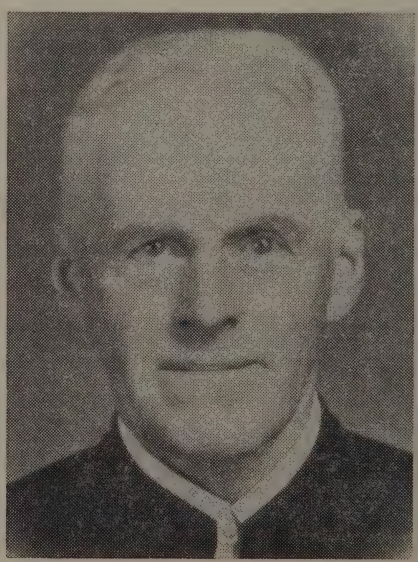
As a preacher, Rhodes felt he needed more education. Consequently in 1904 and 1905 he spent a year and a half in Bible study at Goshen College. While there he preached at the college five or six times. That was a pretty good record for a young Virginia preacher. The summer months were spent at Sterling, Ill.

His work in the Middle District of the Virginia Conference was not confined to one church. He took his turn preaching in all the churches of the district—the home base and the mountain churches. In the summer of 1910 he and his family lived at the mission home near Job, W. Va., where he served the churches in that area.

As a church leader he took an active interest in the total program of the church. He attended the first Bible term held by eastern Mennonites at Alexandria, Va., in 1914. He did some special Bible term teaching after the school was moved to Harrisonburg. He was a member of the religious welfare committee of the Eastern Mennonite College for many years.

He took an active interest in the work of the Home Mission Board, the Virginia Board of Missions and Charities, and also in that of the General Board. He frequently attended the sessions of the General Mission Board and of General Conference. He lent his support in the organization and operation of the Virginia Aid Plans. He served as a member of the Sunday School Committee for the Middle District Sunday schools.

As the work of the Middle District expanded, especially after 1900, there was need for two bishops to serve the churches. Bishop L. J. Heatwole called for help in the office in 1914 and as a result Christian Good was ordained. He was able to serve only two years. Then in 1919 Heatwole called again and S. H. Rhodes was ordained to the office of bishop on March 19, 1919. From that time to the death of Bishop Heatwole in 1932, Rhodes was the junior bishop of the district. But as time went on, Bishop Heatwole turned more and more of the work over to Rhodes, so that the transfer was completed by 1932.



From 1932-1947, Bishop Rhodes bore the burden of the leadership of the Middle District churches—the care of all the churches was upon him. This apprenticeship under Bishop L. J. Heatwole had helped prepare him for the work.

Quite early in life he witnessed the effects of divisive factors in the church. As a young Christian he had lived through the "Middle District" Trouble (1896-1900). At the close of the struggle, when members of the church were asked to come into the council room to identify themselves with the church, Rhodes entered the room as Bishop Anthony P. Heatwole was pleading with Preacher Gabriel D. Heatwole to remain with the church.

This scene made a deep impression on Rhodes' mind. He never wanted to witness anything like it again. Under his bishop leadership divisive forces mounted at times but he was able to weather the storm and keep the church together. It was his policy not to take sides in matters of controversy.

Rhodes was a leader among the Virginia preachers. He usually put a great deal of enthusiasm into his preaching. As he worked into his sermons, or as he warmed up, he spoke more loudly and would make a powerful appeal to the church. His emphatic words were riveted to the hearts of his hearers by appropriate gestures.

Bishop Rhodes called for help in his office in the 1940's. On April 6, 1947, Daniel W. Lehman was called, and the gradual transfer of responsibility from a senior to a junior bishop was begun all over again.

Bishop Rhodes suffered a severe heart attack in November, 1954. For a time he lay between life and death. He rallied sufficiently, however, so that he could call for the "elders of the church" to anoint him. How glad he was to see the brethren with whom he had served, coming to perform the special service for him. The Lord did raise him up, his life was spared for three more years, during which time he was an inspiration to the church even though he did not perform many of the duties of his office. At this time in his life he felt that he had not read the Scriptures in the churches as effectually as he should have. This he regarded as one of his failures as a minister. He tried to make improvement along this line. When opportunity afforded, he read the Word with great emphasis and enthusiasm.

In 1901 Samuel H. Rhodes married Priscilla M. Holsinger, the daughter of Noah Holsinger, and granddaughter of Bishop John Geil, of the New Dale Church community of the Northern District. Their children are Amos H. Rhodes, Delphia Rhodes, Ina Mae (Mrs. Samuel Coffman) and Mary Esther Rhodes, who died as a child.

Bishop Rhodes passed to his reward on Oct. 2, 1957. His favorite Scripture quotation was I Peter 1:3-5. He often quoted this Scripture as he brought comfort to those who were suffering. Read it.

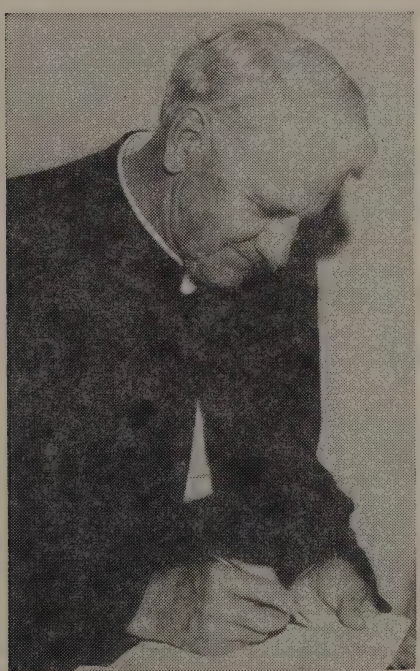
Timothy Showalter (1887-1957)

By Linden M. Wenger

"We thank God for having ordained him as a gift to the Virginia Mennonite Conference." This excerpt from the resolution of respect adopted by the Virginia Conference a few weeks after the passing of Brother Timothy Showalter, takes on real meaning for those of us who knew him as a spiritual counselor and a fellow laborer in the cause of Christ. He served the church for forty-two years as an ordained man, first in the office of deacon (1915), later as a minister (1932), and finally as bishop (1943). These were busy years, years of expansion and growth for the church which he served. Particularly they were the years in which the Virginia Church enjoyed a harvest of numbers added, and congregations organized as a result of the evangelistic efforts conducted in the Highlands. Significantly the last large public assembly Brother Showalter addressed was the annual Fellowship Day gathering of the Highland Churches on June 30, 1957. His final public appearance was at the Virginia Mennonite Home on July 7.



Timothy Showalter was born December 19, 1887, the second of the 12 children of George B. and Elizabeth (Blosser) Showalter. His father before him was a minister who in addition to serving the home churches gave unsparingly of his time to shepherd the flock in the Highlands. From his earliest youth Timothy knew what it meant to work hard in meeting the physical demands of life, and likewise what it meant to sacrifice material advantage for the greater work of the Kingdom.

At the age of 16 he was converted and united with the Mennonite Church. In 1910 he was married to Susie Shipe, who served faithfully with her husband in his many labors until her death in 1954. To this home came one son and seven daughters, all of whom are serving the Lord in the Mennonite Church. A foster son likewise shared the love and generosity of the family. His entire life was lived in the Broadway community of Rockingham County. By occupation he was a farmer, and in spite of the many duties away from home he managed to support his family well. In 1915 he was called to the office of deacon and from that time forward his first interest was the welfare of the church.

Educational opportunities for Brother Showalter were limited. Of formal education he was privileged to acquire only that offered by the elementary schools of the community. But throughout his life he carried on an intensive study of the Scripture along with a fairly extensive reading. He was able to build the childhood recollections of "Dutch" from his parental home into a usable knowledge of German. He was capable of conversing intelligently and profitably with men in many walks of life.

In his preaching he laid no claims to the fine points of scholarship. His sermons were vigorous and practical; attractive for their Biblical content, and easily understood by the average hearer. No one could mistake his earnest appeals for the acceptance of God's offers of salvation or his pleas for a life of consistent Christian living.

In the mind of the present writer Brother Showalter's outstanding gifts were those of a counselor and a pastor. In his seventeen years as a deacon and fourteen years as bishop a very large portion of his work involved personal instruction and counsel. For this task he was fortified first of all by a genuine interest in people. To it he brought a mild and fatherly disposition, a patient sympathy with other people's problems and viewpoints. He carried on an extensive visitation among those who were sick. To the very end of his life he was a regular visitor at the local hospital. Many of those whom he led to faith and fellowship in the Lord were reached by this extensive personal ministry. His interests were not confined to the people of his own church, he had a large acquaintance in the community generally and was often sought out for counsel and often called upon by families in times of distress.

Many have spoken with appreciation of the practical wisdom which Brother Showalter exhibited in our conference deliberations. He had a way of helping us focus our attention on the Scriptural involvements of a given question when our discussion tended to wander, and of speaking a word of conciliation when opinions were divided.

One of Brother Showalter's specialized interests was history. He had a keen appreciation of the worth of historical studies. His long association with the work of Virginia Conference gave him a first hand and remarkable knowledge of both church activity and social trends among the Mennonite people of the twentieth century. As a result of his personal activity he probably knew more members of the Virginia Church by face than any other individual at the time of his death. On his own initiative he did a sizable historical research and was able to recover items of interest and significance which might otherwise have been lost to our people. In his own years as a bishop he did much to clarify and systematize the local church records.

The scene of his activity was confined primarily to the Virginia Conference. There he held through the years many positions of responsibility. He was keenly interested in the welfare of the various church agencies, the Mission Board, Eastern Mennonite College, and the Virginia Mennonite Home. He frequently served as evangelist in his home conference and to a limited extent in other areas. In 1952 he was privileged to travel abroad, attending the Mennonite World Conference in Switzerland.

He is remembered by the family as one who fulfilled the Scriptural qualifications of ruling his own house well. His decisions in the home as in the church were firm, but tempered with love. He lived life heartily; on the farm he worked hard and enjoyed the rewards of farm life. He enjoyed people. Through the years many persons from divers stations in life came to his home, shared its Christian hospitality, and were engaged in profitable conversation. He lived simply as far as the appointments of his home were concerned, explaining that there must be nothing there which would embarrass the humblest caller. He urged the same simplicity for our church buildings and worship services. He enjoyed the small things of life, a day's travel, a bit of good humor, things growing, and especially in his later years, flowers. The family likewise cherishes the memory of the constant awareness of the leading of the Lord which seemed to be his, but which he revealed only to those who were nearest him. In major family decisions, on each occasion when he was called in ordination, he moved forward in consciousness and confidence of the Lord's will. When the time came, even the nearness of his own home going seemed to be in his awareness.

The last few years of his life were somewhat restricted because of a heart condition, but he was permitted a measure of activity to the end. On the day of his death he was driving a tractor in the field in the morning. At noon as he returned to the house he was overtaken by a heart attack. He lay down upon the grass of the lawn and was gone. Funeral services were conducted from the Zion Church, July 14, 1957, in charge of J. L. Stauffer and J. Ward Shank, his fellow bishops in the Northern District. Younger ministers of the district served as pallbearers. He was buried in the Zion Cemetery where two very simple headstones mark his resting place and that of his wife.

Elmer B. Moyer (1888-1957)

By Jacob M. Moyer

I well remember him saying, "Life begins with a cry and ends with a sigh." If there was a sigh at the close of Brother Elmer's life then no one but the Lord heard it, for the family did not at first realize that life had fled as they awaited his awakening late on Tuesday morning, March 26, 1957.

Elmer B. Moyer was the son of Christian G. and Hannah Moyer. He was born in Hilltown Township, Bucks County, Pennsylvania, on April 27, 1888. His age was 68 years, 10 months, and 29 days.

He married Lena Stout on Sept. 27, 1910. The widow and these children survive: Marvin, Lois, Eunice, Vesta, Harlan, and two grandchildren.

His schooling was average or less than average. His application in studying the Scriptures after his conversion was far above average. He was of quick understanding. He was a student in types and figures. His diction was good. His presentation of messages was forceful. His introductions were sometimes lengthy but he laid a good foundation for a strong message and reached a challenging goal.

Brother Elmer's span of life was not as long as many are. It was, however, a full life, for he took a deep interest in things with which he came in contact. Much reading and a good deal of traveling gave him a store of knowledge.

As a youth he took much interest in baseball, but when he turned to the Lord, he transferred his interest to the Lord and His Gospel. Neighbors knew that when others were leisurely enjoying spare time he was engaged in the study of the Word of God. A favorite Scripture to him was II Corinthians 5:17, "Therefore if any man be in Christ, he is a new creature: old things are passed away; behold, all things are become new." This he experienced, and this be presented as a test question when suitable. He and his companion were baptized and received into the fellowship of the Souderton Mennonite congregation on May 16, 1912.

The Franconia Conference Mission Board by 1919 looked with favor upon Brother Elmer and asked him to move his family to the Norristown Mission and take the supervision of the same. He was much interested in mission work and it required little persuasion to get them to make this move.

However on October 28 of the same year, being still a member of the Souderton congregation, and having been voiced by the congregation, he shared the lot with six other brethren, and it became his life work to proclaim the good news of salvation. He was immediately ordained, and after proper plans could be effected, the family moved back to Souderton, not into the house which they had left when moving to Norristown, but into 116 Chestnut Street diagonally across the street from the meetinghouse, a property which belonged to the congregation. In gratefulness he sometimes referred publicly to the fact that of the ministers serving established congregations under the Franconia Conference he was probably the only one living rent free on church property.

The Moyer family for many years owned a town lot about a square west on the same street and decided to build a one story house for themselves. Brother Elmer enjoyed the added comfort of the new home only approximately a year.

It was a blessed privilege for the writer to share in the ministry together for over thirty-seven years. Partial strangers visiting among us would sometimes express themselves on similarities that they detected in us, though we were not related. It seems quite natural that over so long a time laboring together we would receive from one another similar patterns of expression and our lives would unconsciously be molded together. Our desire to work together harmoniously may also have helped in this direction. John 13:35, "By this shall all men know that ye are my disciples; if ye have love one to another" was always kept in mind. We wanted to do our best to build the Church.

While he claimed that he was obliged to work hard to obtain knowledge, he freely spent himself and cheerfully taught and preached. His services were appreciated at home and away from home. He was also a good listener, always attentive to what was being said. He served a great deal as a Bible study teacher. He was on the faculty of the Johnstown Bible School from 1942 to 1950. He frequently had a part in Bible and prophetic conferences. His conclusions were generally highly respected. In the local conference he was used in various capacities and was a member of the Christian Guidance Committee until the time of his inability. He took a deep interest in the Mennonite Church at large and was personally acquainted with a large proportion of the leadership. He had a healthy missionary zeal.

He was conscious of limitations because of a heart condition for a number of years. However, his strong determination and delight in teaching, preaching, and Christian fellowship spurred him on. On June 12, 1955, when almost finished with the sermon at the home church, it was noticed that he could not continue. He was persuaded to allow being taken to a hospital for observation. He returned to the pulpit on December 11 of the same year and continued, preaching his last public sermon on August 26, 1956. The subject was: "The Resurrection." He had announced a series of messages on Bible doctrine of which the last was to be "The Judgment." All of us looked ahead hoping that he could also give us this message. The Lord planned otherwise.

He preached and had part in many funeral services. He was not a eulogist. Neither did he want flattery for himself. He did not select a text to be used at his funeral but stated that he did not want II Timothy 4:6-8 used. Lest this should be understood to be a reflection on his assurance of salvation let me hasten to say that he always was a strong exponent of the doctrine of Christian assurance and gracefully bore his affliction committing himself unto the Shepherd and Bishop of his soul.

At the funeral in the home church at Souderton, Russell B. Musselman, our colaborer, spoke from II Timothy 1:13, 14. The writer of this sketch followed on II Timothy 2:2. His body was laid to rest in the adjoining cemetery.

MENNONITE AUTOMOBILE AID, INC.

September 22, 1956 to September 30, 1957

Registration: 1976 vehicles
Claims Paid: $36,324.77

Assessment: The assessment rate for the last 6 months was 10c per $100 evaluation per month based on NADA average delivered price of vehicle when new. For example, a 1957 Ford or Chevrolet would be at the rate of $27.50 per year. More valuable or less valuable would vary accordingly. For more information write to the Secretary.

Classification of drivers: (1) A double assessment rate on automobiles where the owner or principal operator is an unmarried male under the age of 25. (2) A one and one half assessment rate is levied on married males under 25 and parents having unmarried male drivers under 25 which male drivers do less than ½ of the driving of the enrolled automobiles. (3) A single assessment rate on all other drivers. (4) On trucks and other vehicles' a multiple assessment may be levied depending on type, distance hauled, or use of vehicle. Write to Secretary for more details.

Benefit: Normal collision and comprehensive coverage with a $35.00 deductible. This does not include public liability or property damage.

Please Note: Mennonite Automobile Aid is a witness in sharing automobile losses and making adjustments in keeping with Christian principles without resorting to courts of law either in our own name or in the name of the member (subrogation):

* The above tabulation represents contributions received by the Treasurer of the Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities including contributions received directly by the city missions and charitable institutions under the Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities. Charitable contributions include only contributions that were received by the Treasurer and not payments made by patrons of the charitable institutions. Other contributions not included in this tabulation are annuities and district board contributions not forwarded to the Treasurer at Elkhart. Most of the contributions under General Fund of missions have been used for home work. Figures are for the fiscal year ending April 1.

Herald Nursery Home and Church Series for your { Nursery-class children, their parents, and Sunday-school teachers?

The Herald Nursery Home and Church Series will provide your nursery children with the best in teaching at the time in life when it counts so much.

What others say about the new course—

.... "We have nothing but praise for the excellent course. Our teachers, as well as many parents, are enjoying it thoroughly, and the children love it."

.... "A valuable contribution to the instruction of the nursery Sunday-school child."

.... "I am especially impressed with the beauty and delicacy of the illustrations."

.... "The books are so sincerely written on the child's level, so well illustrated that the message is communicated in a meaningful manner."

.... "This course should be a vanguard of new excellence in Christian lesson materials and teaching methods."

.... "We are delighted with the nursery course. I think it is the finest that I have ever seen."

Plan now to use the Herald Nursery Home and Church Series in nurturing the spiritual growth of your young children.

The Mennonite Encyclopedia

An Outstanding Reference Work on Anabaptist and Mennonite History

This four-volume work contains 3,200 pages in which appear 10,000 articles, 400 illustrations, and over 100 maps of Mennonite communities in Europe, North America, South America, and other parts of the world. Brief articles treat more than 2,000 known Anabaptist martyrs—Swiss, German, Austrian, and Dutch.
Presented here are men, movements, and places as they are related to the growth of the Mennonite Church. All articles are in alphabetical order and easy to find.
A four-volume work with Volumes I, II, and III now available and Volume IV to be published in 1959.

GREEK-ENGLISH CONCORDANCE

to the New Testament

by J. B. Smith

A tabular and statistical Greek-English concordance based on the King James Version with an English to Greek Index. For the average reader of the Bible, this concordance is a tool that will open up the treasures of the original language. Here is a great time-saver and a stimulus to more thorough Bible study.

Recovery of the Anabaptist Vision

Edited by Guy F. Hershberger

In this book you will find an examination of 16th-century issues as well as present-day practices. You will find basic answers to current problems which are hindering the churches' growth, including those churches who are the descendants of the Anabaptist tradition.

Christian discipleship and obedience to the Lord as it relates to present culture and tradition within the church (of any denomination) is portrayed.

This book will help to clear the vision and challenge the believer. $4.50
